

Daily Bible Reading Plan

We are reading through parts of the Old Testament for the rest of the year, starting with the Psalms. Don't get discouraged if you miss several days. Pick back up with today's date and watch God speak to you through His Word. God's blessings rest upon those who read and live by His Word. "Your word is a lamp to my feet, and a light to my path!" Ps. 119:105.

Thought for the Week

Early church Christians believed that the resurrection of Jesus inaugurated a new age. They were in fact – but against appearances – living in God's kingdom, a kingdom of truth and healing and grace. This was all actually present but hidden from unbelieving eyes. Christians, therefore, are the persons in the community who repeat and insist on these kingdom realities, and who therefore must be apocalyptic....We had supposed our lives were so utterly ordinary. Sin-habits dull our faith into stodgy moralism and respectable boredom; then some crisis rips the veneer of cliché off every day routines and reveals the side-by-side splendors and terrors of heaven and hell. [The promised return of Christ in judgment] secretly sets a fire in the imagination that boils the fat out of an obese culture and renders a clear gospel love and a pure gospel hope.

October Bible Memory Verse

God will be the stability of your times, a wealth of salvation, wisdom, and knowledge.

Isaiah 33:6

Confession of Sin & Assurance of Pardon

Sermon Notes

Leader: Father, we come to you this morning as redeemed men and women who still struggle with sin.

Congregation: We admit, Lord, that we still disobey your commands. We are lazy, anxious, proud, and too earthly-minded.

Leader: You tell us to not love this world or the things in the world.

Congregation: Give us the grace to obey this command! Please forgive us when we linger around sin. Help us to more deeply yearn for a new earth in which righteousness dwells. Seize us by the hand and lead us to that world to come, to our eternal home!

Silent Moment for Private Confession

Assurance of Pardon: God, being rich in mercy, because of the great love with which he loved us, even when we were dead in our trespasses, made us alive together with Christ—by grace you have been saved.

Ephesians 2:4, 5
